

2011/03/15

Nobuhiro Nakanish, Chair Person of JVLATE

(Japan Voluntary Laboratory Association for Telecommunication Equipment)

Japan Voluntary Laboratory Association for Telecommunication Equipment Disaster Relief Assistance Program Information for the Japan Northeastern Pacific Ocean Earthquake

Thank you very much for understanding our activities and we really appreciate your cooperation.

As you are already aware, on March 11th, 2011, a Magnitude 9.0 earthquake, centered off the coast of Sanriku in the Miyagi Prefecture, brought unimaginable devastation to many parts of Japan. Images shown by the media can hardly begin to express the depth of such a catastrophic and deeply devastating event.

We extend our deepest sympathies to everyone who has suffered loss and been affected by this catastrophic event. We continue to hope and pray for those whose wellbeing remains unknown to be returned to their loved ones as soon as possible.

We are tremendously thankful and pleased to have been contacted by so many organizations from all over the world with inquiries and offers towards the national relief efforts. In response, we have just arranged the setup of an account to accept this much needed assistance on behalf of the country's national relief movement.

We sincerely wish for the speedy recovery and rehabilitation of areas that are so heavily damaged. We are very fortunate to be able to say only a minimal degree of loss was sustained to most of our affiliated members as a result of this disaster. We have enacted a disaster assistance program for our members facing difficulties to help them resume normal activity in every facet.

We truly appreciate the efforts of everyone contributing to Japan's relief efforts.

If you care to participate, please contact us directly.

Thank you.

NOTE

Contact to: Secretariat of JVLATE
(Japan Voluntary Laboratory Association for Telecommunication Equipment)
Phone: +81-3-6447-2862
e-mail: sect@jvlate.gr.jp
address: Kawakami Bldg. 6F, 2-22-17 Minami-Aoyama, Minato-ku, Tokyo 107-0062 Japan